

Privacy Statement

At Sharp Polymer Solutions Ltd we respect your privacy; however, to perform our business we do need to collect and retain information about our customers. How this information is handled by our team is published below.

What information we hold about you

At the present time, the only way we gather information about you is when you contact us for information about our products and services. This information is not stored online, only in contact databases held Sharp Polymer Solutions Ltd office computer network.

This information is limited to your name, address, other contact information such as telephone numbers and email addresses, and details of your interest in our company.

Cookies

From time to time we may use 'cookies' on our site. Cookies are small amounts of data sent to your web browser by our website. They cannot harm your machine in any way as they are only small text files with simple information in them. You can see them as small text files inside your 'Cookies' folder in the Windows directory.

We use cookies to track the usage of our website.

What we do with your information

By contacting a division of the Sharp Polymer Solutions Ltd and providing us with your contact details you are accepting that we will store this information in order that we may contact you now and in the future with any offers that we feel may be of interest to you from the Sharp Polymer Solutions Ltd range of products and services.

We will NEVER exchange, sell or otherwise give away your email address or contact details away to third party companies.

If at anytime you would like to be removed from our mailing list, please contact us via our contact page or call us on +44(0) 845 6000095 and we will be happy to oblige.
